

Prateek Pujari

Prateek Pujari is the Chief Operating Officer of LetsTransport. He is an IIT Kharagpur alumnus and holds a Bachelor's degree in Mechanical Engineering. He joined the MBA program at Wharton but dropped out after a semester as he realized that the opportunity to scale a new age company would be a better learning experience.

Prateek is a great leader with strong business acumen and has a sound understanding of business strategies. As a Chief Operating Officer, Prateek oversees overall operations and new business development within the company, providing leadership and vision to ensure that the business has strong growth, effective people and operational efficiencies.

Prior to this, he has worked with Hindustan Unilever, leading a team of 250 people and played a major role in improving production efficiencies. He joined LetsTransport in 2016 as a General Manager and now plays a major role as COO.

Prateek is an ardent follower of football and tennis. He likes to spend his leisure time reading books and traveling.
